

Medicaid 2025: Ways to Take Action on Proposed Cuts to Medicaid

National disability advocates think Congress may cut federal Medicaid funding and may change what states can do so it is easier for states to cut Medicaid programs. Many federal and state decision-makers do not know how Medicaid helps people stay healthy and living in their homes, not institutions. Federal and State lawmakers need to know how Medicaid helps you and your family, and what it would mean to your life if the services and supports you have are reduced or stopped.

Friday January 31st 12-1:00pm

Registration: bit.ly/MedicaidActionSteps2025

What the workshop will cover:

Latest on what we know about proposed Federal Medicaid cuts

Ways people like you have successfully connected with lawmakers on Medicaid

Tips and strategies you can use to educate lawmakers and people you know about Medicaid, and what cutting it would mean for people like you.

Ideas you can put into action as an individual or part of the larger disability community to make more people aware of why Medicaid matters